SIX CHARGED WITH ARSON

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN BURNING OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
AT FORT WORTH.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 16.—Six indictments believed to be in connection with the burning of the First Baptist church and parsonage last year were returned by the Sixty-seventh district court grand jury Friday.

The six indictments are against three men, a charge of arson being made for both the church and the parsonage.

The three men against whom true bills were returned were Roy Eastus, a blacksmith who formerly conducted a shop corner of Fifth and Commerce streets in Fort Worth, but who now is believed to be at Longview; Bill Ratliff, whom none of the officers questioned knows anything at all about, and Lee Weatherford, a blacksmith who lives at 912 East Terrell avenue.

Eastus already is under indictment on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of a house owned by E. C. Smith, a lawyer, who also is under indictment on the same charge. Smith is said to be in Dallas.

The Baptist church was destroyed by fire for which an alarm was received at the central fire station at 2:13 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, Feb. 1, 1912.

The parsonage, 810 West Fifth street, was discovered on fire while the church was burning, but this was extinguished.

The parsonage, however, was partially destroyed by a fire reported at 3:17 o'clock on the morning of March 2, 1912. Rev. Mr. Norris escaped from this fire from a second story window and dropped his children from the roof onto a mattress placed on the lawn by a neighbor.

F. W. Axtell, grand jury foreman, declined to discuss the matter. Asked if there would be any other indictments he declined to answer, but significantly said "Of course we still are in session."

NEW BLOOD IN M. & P. BANK MANAGEMENT

The statement of the M. & P. bank shows up well, the bank gaining a trifle in deposits since the June statement, although at this season of the year deposits usually show a decided falling off.

Not only is the bank holding its own in the business world, but it has been greatly strengthened by the addition of M. Hughes and Leo Hughes as stockholders and officers, the first named being one of the vice presidents and the latter cashier. M. Hughes is one of the best known bankers in this part of Oklahoma, and is president of the First National banks of Okmulgee and Roff besides his position here. The new cashier is a young man of ability and tact and is making a good start with the public.

NO ARREST IN BROWN MURDER CASE

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 16.—So far as could be learned at police headquarters last night there were no arrests made in connection with the Brown murder case yesterday. Chief of Police John W. Ryan, in commenting upon the story published in The News yesterday morning, said he deplored the publicity that is being given to the work of the officers in the case. He would neither confirm nor deny the accuracy of the report, which was to the effect that the detectives have a clew which they regard as the best found thus far, and that an arrest was expected within the next forty-eight hours. The News' information came from a highly authoritative source.

It is a foregone conclusion that should an arrest be made today the officers will make every possible effort to keep the matter a secret and spirit their prisoner away. It is believed that he will be hurried to the state penitentiary at Rusk or at Huntsville.

Assistant Chief of Police L. W. Brown yesterday gave out the first statement that has been received from the police department, to the effect that it has had a clairvoyant working on the case. Mr. Brown said that the medium furnished the officers with quite a graphic story, but an investigation failed to develop anything in the way of a substantial clew on which to work.

Chief of Detectives Tanner, Sheriff Brandenburg and Chief of Police Ryan last night gave out the same statement they have made repeatedly heretofore, that there are no new developments in the Brown case.

BOARD ADVISES OLD BOOKS

RESOLUTION ADOPTED OVER PROTEST OF SUPT. WILSON—ADVISES 1908 ADOPTION.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 16.—The state board of education Friday passed a resolution advising that the public schools of the state continue in use the books of the 1908 adoption, with the exception of spellers. The resolution was vigorously opposed by State Superintendent Wilson, president of the board, who, in a communication to the board stated his reasons for his views. The board spent the entire morning today agreeing as to the stand represented in the resolution. Finally the action was taken without opposition, except as to Wilson.

The action taken by the board today was done with the hope of putting the situation in some definite shape, and relieving the confusion as to what books should be used. It is contended by some of the companies that the contracts for the 1908 adoption have expired by limitation and that books used under it are not authorized by any contract. If the 1912 contract is held by the supreme court to be illegal then there is no contract at all.

The Oklahoma Book company which is distributing agent for both the 1908 and 1912 contracts, it is said, has a supply of books under both adoptions. Agents representing book companies interested in both adoptions, it is also said, are visiting the different school districts and urging the school officials to use their books. Local dealers are acting in accordance with instructions from the school district officials, and the book company distributing the books is sending out those books ordered by the dealers, as they have both kinds. That is the situation now.

The resolution passed by the board follows:

"Resolved, That whereas the supreme court in the case of W. H. Wheeler and Company vs. Wikoff et al. now pending and to be heard September 8, 1913, has ordered that the books used as primers and readers in the public schools heretofore adopted previous to July, 1912, should be continued in use in public schools until this controversy is finally determined in this court.

"It is therefore the sense of the board of education that the same principle should be observed as to other text books adopted prior to July, 1913, except the spellers, and that the public schools of the state should continue the use of the text books adopted in 1908 except the speller until the controversy involved is finally determined in the supreme court of the state.

"In the event the supreme court holds the 1912 adoption illegal, it becomes the duty of the state board of education to make new adoptions at once.

"If the 1912 books are bought now and put in use, this will perhaps necessitate two exchanges the same year and great confusion and financial loss while if the 1908 books are continued in use not many new books are needed and only one change is required

A WORDY WAR IS IN PROSPECT

A wordy battle has been in progress today between T. O. Cullins and A. G. Adams over a notification by the latter for Mr. Cullins and his scouts to move out of their quarters over the First National bank to make way for a party who has rented the rooms. Cullins declined to consider the matter before January 1, declaring he would resist with his last drop of blood any attempt to take possession. Realizing the seriousness of the matter and what a desperate undertaking he had in hand Mr. Adams addressed the following warning or proclamation, which would have been sufficient to frighten a less determined bunch into submission, but not so with Cullins, who was never accused of lacking in gall. Said Mr. Adams:

I have made application to the adjutant general of Oklahoma for a regiment of soldiers to be here on Sept. 1st, to throw you and your bunch out.

I wouldn't undertake the job with anything else.

Get your artillery in shape.

A. G. ADAMS.

To this declaration of war the opposing general replied as follows:

The Oklahoma adjutant general's tin soldiers may be able to suppress the Crazy Snake rebellion, but will not be equal to the emergency in this case. Your only recourse is to call on the Secretary of War, and in view of the fact that he has his time occupied with the Mexican situation, we feel secure in holding the fort until the expiration of our contract (?) We are well supplied with provisions and are maneuvering and holding councils of war daily.

Yours defiantly,

T. O. CULLINS.

Bloody war is now in the air and

Kept Scholars at Work.

In Scotland up to the middle of the eighteenth century, the usual school hours were from 6 a. m. till 6 p. m., with two breaks of an hour earlier and worked so long as daylight lasted. No alteration in the hours was made on Saturday, and even on Sunday a certain amount of school work was done. The holidays were restricted to a day at Candlemas and at Whitsun, and a fortnight in the autumn.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

SCATTERED RAINS OVER OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Ok., Aug. 15.—Scattered rains, which late Friday night appeared to becoming general, as heavy clouds were reported from nearly every country, were of great benefit to cotton, feed crops and other late crops in the sections visited, and broke the extremely hot weather of Oklahoma. The fall in temperature was from 10 to 20 degrees in nearly every portion of the state. A drouth of from two to six weeks duration was broken in some sections.

The central section and the east central regions were the sections reporting rain, while general cloudiness was reported from all of the western half of the state, with the exception of the extreme southwestern counties. The counties which report rain and crop benefits include Oklahoma, one-half inch; Cleveland, one-half inch; Logan, one-half inch; Pottawatomie, one-half inch; Tulsa, one-half inch; Muskogee, light; but still raining late Friday night; Payne, one-half inch; Creek one-half inch, and Okmulgee, one inch.

The southwestern counties had little hope of rain Friday night, and the southern part not much more, although Ardmore, Pauls Valley and Durant reported heavy clouds. At Hugo the weather was clear, also at McAlester.

Probable.

Jones (just introduced)—"I suppose you don't remember me, but I was once a witness against your side in a certain trial, and I remember that you cross-examined me with the greatest courtesy." The Lawyer—"Is that so? Perhaps your testimony was not material."—Puck.

It Seemed to Her.

A peddler with horse and wagon was going through our street. The peddler was loudly calling his wares, while nobody seemed to pay any attention to him. Thoughtfully Jeanette, aged two and a half years, turned and said: "Mamma, what is that man singing to his horse for?"

Traveling Bed for Baby.

Traveling with a tiny baby will be made much easier by fitting a small hair mattress into a suit case. The one used in a baby carriage will do. It will be very comfortable for the baby to lie on whenever the suit case could be opened. Tie a large cambric pocket in the cover to contain all the clothes and small things to be used for the baby on the journey. When not in use the case may be closed and easily put out of the way.

SHOW DAY WILL SOON BE HERE

Al G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus will give two performances in Ada, on August 23. The coming of this show is eliciting a great deal of interest and enthusiasm, not only with the little ones but with the grown ups too. It is the largest and grandest wild animal exhibition in the world.

It will be the only show of any importance exhibiting here this season bringing the latest and most up-to-date animal acts of America and Europe.

There are 350 animals with the Al

G. Barnes Circus, each of which is a performer. Among them are a herd of elephants, a caravan of camels, royal Bengal tigers, pumas, bears, leopards, jaguars, hyenas, zebras, monkeys of every known species, dogs and ponies.

More than half a hundred heart-thrilling acts are presented at each and every performance in steel arenas weighing many tons under the direction of the world's most celebrated animal trainers. Within the heavily enclosed strongholds savage beasts perform feats which actually cause the most callous heart to beat faster.

Without a doubt the most dangerous, death defying, thrilling and prodigious act ever offered to the public may be seen with the Al G. Barnes Circus. It is the act of Herr Louis Roth with his twenty-five man eating forest bred African lions.

The one and only troupe of royal Bengal tigers in the world may be seen with the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus. They represent an expenditure of $25,000. These man eating animals were owned and kept for the sole pleasure of the Maharajah of Ceylon until several years ago.

A few of the many other favorite acts to be seen will be that of Maj. Robert Thornton and his troupe of bears, Capt. Stonewall and his sea lions, Prof. Emery and his heard of Siamese elephants, Miss Ethel Bonde and her four educated Arabian stallions which perform in unison with a lion, bear, dog and a monkey: Capt. Engleheart and Prince Congo, an Orang Outang who does everything but talk.

Each and every performance will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Barnes. This is the one show that's different. With it there are no immoral exhibitions of any kind. No thieves or crooks are allowed to travel on anyone of the twenty-five railroad cars needed to transport the show.

A gorgeous, glittering mastodontic street parade at 10:30 o'clock on the day of the exhibition. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m.

HARRISON HALL THOUGHT TO BE OUT OF DANGER

Harrison Hall, the young man who came near losing his life Friday in a well near Homer, is said to be out of danger.

It appears that some dynamite blasts had been fired in the well the day before the accident and the gases from one shot evidently collected in a cavity under the dirt and rock in the bottom of the well. Harrison said that when in digging and shoveling he opened the pocket a blue vapor came out of it and he kne wno more until after his rescue.

Luther Britt was the young man who went down in the well and rescued Harrison.

Mr. Tanner Vomits a Second, Yea, a Third Time.

Upon my return from an extended fishing trip this week my attention was called by a Coon, to an article in the Star-Democrat, of this week's issue, the carcass of which article was covered with such a stench of malice and slander that the buzzards of Bagdad had fled in disgust. Said article was intended as a kind of apologies for mistakes made in a former article of its kind, in the same paper, I suppose that this imitation of a quarrel with one's wife was fathered by A. D. Tanner, whose kinship to the owner of said periodical guarantees him free use of its sanctum for the purpose of making mud.

None need to have any fear of the outcome of this deplorable affair, for Mr. Tanner, is immune from attack judicial or otherwise, because of old age and poverty, and should be pitied, it should be remembered by those who read these scars on the pages of the public press that when we have passed so many milestones in life that we too may be easily irritated and childish, and may say many things that will leave a scar on the soul. Things that would not have escaped our lips in soberer and younger days, so far as I am concerned this nasty quarrel is closed forever. J. Q. ADAMS.

The report of the First National bank shows that it is holding its own well, even though this is the dulllest part of the year. Its deposits are around $660,000, a figure that few banks in this part of the state can equal. ### Crop Condition Around Maxwell.

D. C. Hybarger returned Wednesday morning from Maxwell where he has been looking after cutting his alfalfa crop, and reports the crops in that part of the county as good as it is possible to be. He says he has never seen such flattering prospects for a heavy corn crop all along the river; besides the splendid corn, a good oat crop has been harvested and the cotton is doing well. Another indication that the farmers are going to be in good shape this fall is the unusual number of hogs that will be put on the market. We understand that

Lupus Worst Form of Skin Diseases

Here is a Home Treatment that Overcomes even Worst Cases.

Blood Disorders are Banished by S. S. S.

A tiny pimple spreads to the side of the face and often covers the cheeks and bridge of the nose. It is very destructive to the glands of the skin. No external treatments will overcome it, as the cause of lupus is from impurities in the blood supply. The only known method of cure is to get the blood supply under the control of S. S. S., the famous blood specific. Its action is quite remarkable and has direct influence upon the network of small blood vessels and glands in the skin.

From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence in all the digestive organs. It is certainly a wonderful blood medicine, and is prepared direct from native materials gathered by the experts of the famous Swift Laboratory. Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 183 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes. S. S. S. is what you need.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

Washington, D. C., July 5.—A quiet week is in prospect for official Washington, the debates in congress over the tariff measure promising the only relief from the dullness that envelops the capital in mid-summer.

A primary is to be held Tuesday in the Sixth congressional district of New Jersey to select candidates to succeed Congressman Martin, who died recently. The election will be held July 22.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, with his two sons, Archie and Quentin, is to leave his home in Oyster Bay Tuesday for a two months' camping trip in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Interest in the automobile world will center in the national reliability tour of the American Automobile Association. The tour is to start Friday from St. Paul and Minneapolis and the entries assure a notable contest. The trip will extend over a circuitous route of more than 1,200 miles and will terminate at the Glacier National Park, in Montana.

One of the largest conventions of the week will be at Rochester, where the annual national reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will assemble Monday for a session of six days. Thousands of members of the order will be in attendance from every part of the country and great preparations have been made in Rochester for their entertainment.

Other large and notable gatherings of the week will include the annual convention of the National Education Association, in Salt Lake, the National Conference of Charities and Correction, in Seattle; the international convention of Christian Endeavor societies, in Los Angeles; the annual convention of the Canadian Forestry Association, in Winnipeg, and the annual convention of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, in Cleveland.

Among the events of the week abroad that will be of interest to American readers will be the annual Grand Prix contest, the most important of the European automobile road races, and the assembling in Zurich, Switzerland, of the World's Seventh Sunday School Convention, in which hundreds of delegates from the United States and Canada will take part. Other events of the week will in-

Educators Meet at Salt Lake.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 5.—The capital of Utah became the educational centre of the country today. Thousands of teachers have arrived for the forty-first annual convention of the National Education Association. Every state in the Union is represented. Many college presidents are among the delegates. Nearly one hundred regular meetings for discussions on educational topics will be held during the ensuing six days, with several speakers for each, and the social features which have been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors are very numerous.

Acting as a forerunner of the convention proper, which will formally be opened Monday, the annual meeting of the National Council of Education began this morning. Reports of officers and committees were made, and the arrangements for the convention were surveyed and approved. The committee reports dealt with economy of time in education, health problems in American schools, tests of efficiency and the Suzzallo plan for the reorganization of the American teaching profession.

During the coming week every conceivable topic that could come within the general subject of education will be discussed by the noted teachers and scholars in attendance on the convention. From the kindergarten child to the college post-graduate, the artist to the artisan, all kinds, degrees and phases of instruction will be considered.

A DASH FOR FREEDOM

NEGRO JUMPS FROM WINDOW OF SHERIFF'S OFFICE—MAY DIE OF INJURIES.

As the result of a leap from an upstairs window at the court house Thursday night Will Wyatt, a negro, may die of the injuries received.

The negro was suspected of having stolen a quantity of sugar and perhaps other things from R. A. Herndon's wholesale house. Constable Adair, County Attorney Roland and Chief Bolin started out after him and Mr. Roland finally ran across him and rounded him in. After holding him a few minutes in the sheriff's office the officers started to jail with him. At the mention of the word jail the negro dashed for the window and dived through it, landing on his head

Hooray! Blood Free of Impurities

Eczema Gone! Acne, Tetters, Rash, Pimples, Carbuncles, Boils—Banished!

S. S. S. Drives the Demon of Bad Blood Back to the Woods.

The under layer of skin is a fine network of tiny blood vessels in which the famous blood remedy, S. S. S., works with remarkable activity. This is why S. S. S., the best known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus, pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine network of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly becoming removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 190 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

MCCORKLE'S HORSE WEIGHS MORE THAN A HUNDRED

Yesterday W. H. McCorkle inserted an advertisement in the News for a horse that had strayed from its wonted place of habitation. It setting up the notice we made an error, reducing the animals weight from 1000 pounds to 100. It was not the fault of either the horse or Mr. McCorkle that the animal fell off 900 pounds. The machine operator would possibly explain the matter thusly: That when he pressed the hootenany that flips the dingbat that throws the whang-doodle that drops the oozemover and causes the ciphers to fall into place, one of the little noughts failed to come across in a manner becoming good little ciphers—and there you have it—a beast that should have topped the beam at half a ton fell off ridiculously. But back to the point—Mack wants his horse, and also desires that any one finding the animal shall notify him.

The WOMAN

A Novel by Albert Payson Terhune

Founded on William C. de Mille's Play of the same name

Copyright 1912, The Bobbs-Merrill Co., by special arrangement with the Dillie Publishing Co.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Congressman Standish and the woman, believing themselves in a hotel in northern New York under assumed names. The woman awakens to the fact that she does not love Standish and calls their engagement off. Standish protests undying devotion.

CHAPTER II—Wanda Kelly, telephone girl at the Hotel Keswick, Washington, is loved by Tom Blake, son of the political boss of the house. He proposes marriage and is refused.

CHAPTER III—She gives as one of the reasons her determination to get revenge on Jim Blake for ruining her father, Congressman Frank E. Kelly. Congressman Standish, turned insurgent in the interests of the railroads. The machine is seeking means to discredit Standish in the hope of pushing the bill through.

CHAPTER IV—Robertson, son-in-law of Jim Blake and the latter's candidate for speaker of the house, tries to win Standish over, and failing, threatens to dig into his past.

CHAPTER V—Jim Blake finds out about the episode of five years back at the northern New York hotel. He secures all the facts except the name of the woman and proposes to use the story as a club to force Standish to allow the Mullins bill to pass.

CHAPTER VI—Tom Blake and his father have a family row over the father's political theories. Jim Blake sends for Standish.

CHAPTER VII—He lays a trap to secure the name of the woman. He tells Miss Kelly that he is going to have a talk with Standish and that at its conclusion the latter will call up a number on the phone to warn the woman. He offers Miss Kelly $100 for that number.

CHAPTER VIII—At the conclusion of the interview with Blake Standish gets a New York wire and calls Plaza 1001. A few minutes later Robertson tells Miss Kelly to call Plaza 1001 and get his wife or one of the servants on the phone.

CHAPTER IX—Miss Kelly refuses to give Jim Blake the number called by Standish.

CHAPTER X—Blake has a story of the Standish episode prepared ready to send out as soon as the woman's name is learned. Tom Blake tells his father of his love for Wanda Kelly and a family row ensues. Blake's daughter, Grace, lives with her husband, Governor Robertson.

CHAPTER XI—Blake sends for Standish and Grace promises to entertain him until her father's return.

"Absurd or not," snapped Blake, "it's got to stop short! I'm not going to let you throw yourself away on a girl like that. If it comes to a show-down, I'll withdraw my support from you. And then what can you do? Hey? Answer me that. Here I've given you the softest snap there is—a big salary for loafing around an office a few hours a week. How much could you make by your own law practice if once I take my hand from under you? You haven't got an earning ability of a thousand dollars a year. And you know it. Suppose I try that; and see if she's so blooming anxious, then, to marry you."

"I understand," said Tom bitterly. But you're wrong. I didn't ask your consent. I just told you what my plans are. That's all."

"It's enough, I guess."

"Look here, dad. You spoke just now of coming to a show-down. Also you claim I'm no good without your backing. If I can't make a living on my own hook, it's high time for me to begin to learn how. If all the education and money and training you've spent on me have fitted me for nothing except to be a political catpaw for you, it's time I started along a fresh line. You've outlined my position pretty clearly. And I'm going to make my own way—with the girl I mean to marry."

"Oh, you poor wall-eyed fool!" sighed Blake.

"If I'm a fool," flared Tom, "I inherit it!"

"Of all the senseless come-backs I ever heard," commented Blake disgustedly, "that's about the flattest and silliest. However, we understand each other at last."

"I suppose," broke in Tom with sulky contrition, "I needn't have said that. I'm sorry."

"You needn't be. Maybe you were right. Perhaps it wasn't such a punk come-back after all. But, of course, it's tough for a man to see his only son throw himself away on a—"

"Steady, dad! I won't stand for that sort of talk about her. Not even from you."

"Whether I say it or not," grumbled Blake, "you know what I think. So what's the difference?"

"When you change your mind," answered Tom, fighting hotly for self-control, "you'll have less to take back."

He jammed on his hat, flung open the door—and confronted a man and a woman who were entering.

The woman—tall, slender, strikingly handsome—darted forward to where Jim Blake stood scowling at his son. And at sight of her the scowl changed to a light that few men had seen—suspected—in the grim old politician's face.

"Hello, Grace!" he exclaimed in delight. "Gee, but you come like a bunch of sunshine after a Welsh-rabbit nightmare! Stand still and let's look at you! No, don't waste time kissing Tom. He's got other people to kiss."

CHAPTER XI.

Before the Storm.

"It's good to get a welcome at last," laughed Grace. "Mark's been as cross as a bear."

"I haven't declared Robertson."

"You have!" she insisted. "And just because the train was a few minutes late. Oh, well—a few hours, then. When I got in you were stamping up and down the platform surrounded by a blue haze; like Ajax defying the railroad. Really, I was ashamed of you. If it hadn't been for the lovely flowers you got me—"

"What was the delay?" asked Blake.

"I don't know," she answered, laying aside her wraps with Robertson's awkward if eager aid. "The engine made too strenuous an effort to get out of Baltimore. And it broke down. How are you, dad?"

"Oh," grunted Blake, "as well as a man may hope to be who never can hope to make himself worthy of such a wonderful son. I—"

"Tom!" cried Grace in jolly reproof. "There's been another explosion! What was it, this time? Tell me!"

"Politics," answered Blake before Tom could speak. "I'm a wicked, hopeless, corrupt old guy. And Tom's just discovered it—for the thousandth time. It's hurt his feeling something terrible."

"Why do you boys quarrel so foolishly?" she demanded. "Neither of you ever quarrels with me. I'm going to be an arbitration committee and a dove of peace, all in one, and settle your grievances—when I get time."

"And, speaking of time," put in Mark, "I ought to be at the Capitol this very minute. Coming?" he asked, turning to Blake and Tom.

"In a little while," said Blake. "You two run on. I want to speak to Grace."

Tom led the way from the room. Mark, following, paused an instant on the threshold.

"By the way, Grace," he called, over his shoulder, "we've asked Standish to come here. It wouldn't do for us to be seen conferring with him at the Capitol or anywhere else in public. If he gets here before we're back, ask him to wait, won't you?"

His wife's back had been turned toward him and she was leaning over a table arranging flowers in a vase. Her voice as she replied was quite indifferent.

"Certainly," she agreed. "Confer all night if you want to, so long as you don't do it loudly enough to keep me awake."

Robertson closed the door, leaving Grace and her father alone together. Noting Blake's scowl, she asked:

"How is the Mullins fight coming on?"

"Twenty-fourth round," he replied. "Both men groggy."

"You'll win, though!" she said; and there was scarce a note of interrogation in her voice.

"It's a way I've got," bluffed her father; loath that the daughter, whose faith in his powers was so secure, should know of the straits in which he was laboring. "Standish is doing his best to block us. And he thinks he's done it. A lot of other folks think so, too. But I'm fixing up a mine to spring under him tonight. And after the explosion I guess the air will clear for the Mullins bill. But that wasn't what I wanted to speak to you about. It's Tom."

"Tom?"

"Yes. He's in love."

"Is that all? Oh, I see. The quarrel was about that. He came to you for sympathy and—"

"Girl, there's four things no man can get sympathy for. I don't know why, but he can't: having his umbrella stolen; getting his best hat sat on; a toothache; and falling in love. But it happens. Tom didn't come looking for sympathy. He just handed me an ultimatum. And it didn't ultimate. That's where I want you to help me."

"Who is she? Do I know her?"

"You've probably seen her here at the Keswick, though I don't suppose you've noticed her. You wouldn't be likely to. She's Wanda Kelly."

"Not the phone girl?" asked Grace in dismay.

"You win. Real nice, ain't it? Makes an awful hit with me, after all I've done and planned for that boy, to have him tumble into an affair like this."

"Don't worry!" she reassured him. "There are other ways of convincing a man—especially a lover—than by storming at him. You know all about
